

ROBIN LAVITCH, MA, CPC

“I am fascinated by people and their ability to rise above and be resilient.”

It is my mission to pinpoint these qualities and share the secrets to success. With a Master’s Degree in Psychology, a Certification as a Professional Coach, a Supreme Court Family Mediator, a Doctoral Student in Human Behavior, and pretty much biting off more than I can chew, I’ve managed to integrate the principles of business and psychology. My training programs are geared towards entrepreneurs, executives, and even teens on the sensible and absurd elements of human behavior to enhance communication, motivation, and leadership. My approach is simple; share vivid and relatable stories and offer thought-provoking ideas to guarantee insight and application.
